agreement or any contract whatever As between him and them there was merely the one side to a contract, where, in order to produce a contract, two sides would be required With the firm of Blenkiron & Co of course there was no contract, for as to them the matter was entirely unknown, and therefore the pretence of a contract was a failure

CASES AND NOTES SUMMARY FOR CONTRACT LAW

Conduct post-"contract" can be informative, in showing that the parties thought a contract was made or wasn't, but can't tell us what happened at the time of the agreement (could lead to mischief, contract cannot be modified by subsequent actions) What kind of remedy might there be for this situation? Specific performance (force the
